ABOUT AACC

The Asian American Cultural Center (AACC) is a department that supports the university's core mission to foster an educational climate based on diversity and inclusiveness. The AACC offers a myriad of social, cultural, and educational opportunities designed to promote, respect and embrace the unique histories and cultural identities within the Asian Pacific Islander Desi Arab (APIDA) diaspora. The AACC provides a supportive environment for all Rutgers students and encourage academic and professional excellence through internship opportunities, peer to peer mentorship, leadership and professional development, and exploration of identity.
